

Artistic Ahmedabad

Sabarmati Ashram

About Ahmedabad

There is a well-known legend that around 1411 AD, Sultan Ahmed Shah was standing by the Sabarmati River when the unusual sight of a hare chasing a ferocious dog caught his attention. He was impressed by the influence of this land that cultivated fearlessness in its inhabitants and so he decided to establish his capital in this forest area and named it Ahmedabad. This fearless and zesty city nestled in the heart of Gujarat, lives up to its history and offers a generous buffet of surprises and enjoyment.

Meandering through the lanes of the city, one will witness a fine blend of the old and contemporary, peaceful and chaotic, the artistic and crude, including the spiritual and material colours of life. An artistic haven, this city has been a seat to some of the nation's most elite educational institutions. The rich tradition, education, humility and homely hospitality of the people here will touch your heart. Here's a warm welcome to the largest city of Gujarat!

Sidi Sayeed Mosque

Tourist attractions:

Sidi Sayeed Mosque: Built in 1573, this is the last of the major mosques to be built in Ahmedabad under the Mughal rule. Its peculiar feature, the carved jaalis in the windows of the western wall are known worldwide and have become a symbol of the city of Ahmedabad. Depicting a tree with intertwining branches, the carvings look like fine lace work, but are actually made from solid stone. Witness the brilliant craftsmanship along with religious piety.

Visiting hours: Across the day, every day.

Location: At Mirzapur Road, 3 km from Ahmedabad station.

Calico Museum: This museum houses a remarkable collection of fabrics from various remote areas of India and portrays handicraft textiles spanning over 500 years. It is managed by a charitable trust founded by the Sarabhais, a pioneering business family that is active in conservation of cultural heritage. Regarded as the foremost textile museum in the world, it is an important Indian institution.

Visiting hours: 10.15 am to 12.30 pm; 02.45 pm to 04.30 pm. Closed on Wednesdays and public holidays.

Location: Shahibaug, 5 km from Ahmedabad station. As entry is restricted to 30 visitors, please book by calling in advance.

Rani Sipri's Mosque

Rani Sipri's Mosque: The Mosque and the tomb of Rani Sipri are the most elegant of the Ahmedabad buildings of the period. They were completed in 1514, three years after the death of Muhammad Begada by Rani Asni, one of his wives. The mosque has been praised by Fergusson as being "the most exquisite gem of Ahmedabad both in plan and detail". It is popular as 'Masjid -e- Nagina' due to its beautiful sculpture.

Visiting hours: 05:00 am to 08:00 pm, every day.

Location: Astodia, 1 km from Ahmedabad station.

Jama Masjid: The Jama Masjid has been described by some as the most beautiful mosque in the east. The Friday or congregational mosque, was built by the city's founder Sultan Ahmed Shah in 1423. Built with yellow sandstone in an architectural style that combines the best of Muslim and Hindu traditions, the mosque is outstanding for its grand scale, superb proportions and exquisite workmanship. It stands on 260 pillars which support 15 domes at varying elevations. The mosque is located almost in the centre of the old city.

Location: The eastern side of Teen Darwaza, opp. the Mahatma Gandhi Road.

Hutheesing Jain Temple: Built by Sheth Hutheesing as a dedication to the 15th Jain Tirthankar Shri Dharmanatha, this elegant Temple created out of white marble has been sacred to many Jain families for generations. The work of this magnificent Temple is attributed to one Premchand Salat, from the renowned architectural community of Salat.

Bhadra Fort & Tran Darwaja: Bhadra Fort was built by Sultan Ahmed Shah on the East bank of the river Sabarmati after he captured Karnavati in 1411. The Citadel architecture is Indo Sarcenic, with intricately carved arches and balconies. It once enclosed Royal Palaces and Gardens. The joint rule of the Peshwas and the Gaekwads brought an end to the Mughal era in 1583. When the Marathas captured the fort, they converted one of its chambers into Bhadrakali temple.

The triple arched gateway 'Tran Darwaja' was built to serve as the royal entrance to the Maidan Shah or the Royal Square. It is an imposing monument of perfect proportions and highly ornate buttresses.

The Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation and the Archaeological Survey of India have begun an initiative to renovate the Bhadra Fort called the Bhadra Plaza Development Project.

Location: Bhadra Fort is near Lal Darwaja, Ahmedabad. 1km from the city station.

Sabarmati Riverfront

Sabarmati Riverfront: A beautiful promenade along the river and a venue for major events, the Sabarmati Riverfront Project will enhance the distinctive character of Ahmedabad, significantly improving the quality of life for residents and enhancing Ahmedabad's value as a destination for new employers, institutions, investment, education opportunities and tourism. The project provides more than ten kilometers of uninterrupted pedestrian promenade on each bank and public ghats for direct access to the water. The river banks will evolve continually, adapting to the diverse interests of a rapidly transforming city.

Lined across the riverfront are attractions like Badshah no Hajiro, Shreyas Museum of Folk Art, Law Gardens, National Institute of Design, the Science City and numerous other locations.

Other attractions:

Among the latest additions are the Amdavad ni Gufa, conceptualised by M.F. Hussain, world renowned painter and B.V. Doshi, a noted architect.
